To this end, BG Global (LLC) will seek to put into action and intensify the plans to raise capital, primarily for our battery/base metals propositions for further project development and exploration. Our medium-term plan is centered around pursuing several options of raising capital for our African, more specifically South African base metals projects, either through an Initial Public Offering (IPO) or through Institutional Funding in order to bring our mineral assets into production and/or by bolting onto medium sized producing assets.
